The Election Council will be looking into measures to be put into place next year so this error will not occur in the future.
6. M. Noyes noted her opinion that since this was an error made by the Election Council that it would be unfair to make the candidates choose a position.

11) New Business:
   a. ACTION ITEM: ASI Budget Proposal (C. Smith)
      i. A slightly updated Budget Proposal was resent out to the Board yesterday. The changes that were made:
         1. The language we were using we are shifting. The proper terminology will be “excess fund balance” and “reserve balance”.
      ii. Cindy Derrico shared that the objective for this year was to look at the expenses and properly attribute them to the proper funds. Along with this, as explained previously to the Board, due to the campus’s updated reserve policies, ASI and the SU has followed suit with following the updated policy. Additionally the staff and the BASC were commended for the many hours that they spent combing through this budget proposal.

In addition, there are some new initiatives in the ASI and Student Union budget requests, as well as new initiatives from the ASI campus partners. The BASC looked at every request that was made and categorized them into three priorities: A, B, and C, in case there are cuts that need to be made. The purpose of explaining this all to the Board, is it is their responsibility to recommend this proposal to the President.

This budget proposal is made to align with the campus and to budget conservatively. There are some budget savings, which on the campus side is called “roll over”, but in ASI this is called the fund balance. It is the plan to spend over half of these “roll over” funds. The only expenses that will be posted to the reserves is the Student Union equipment, which complies with the current reserve policy, and then two new business initiatives: new software for CI Sync (to assist student orgs) and the food pantry.

   III. Motion to recommend the budget that is being presented to be approved by the University President
        M/S/P (M. Noyes/C. Arellano)
   a. Discussion:
      i. J. Moss stated a thank you to Genesis DeLong and Tonee Sherrill for all their hard work on the budget.
      ii. C. Derrico noted that even though it is the university’s responsible to ensure the bond payment, ASI has the obligation as well and ASI has worked to ensure the debt service coverage as well.
      iii. M. Jarnagin notified the Board that there is a campus wide budget meeting tomorrow, Friday, April 28th at 8:35 a.m. in El Dorado Hall, where Cindy Derrico will be presenting this proposal.
