4) Financial Report: Ms. Jarnagin references the audited financial statements booklet which was provided to the board. She gives the basics of accounting: assets, liabilities, net assets etc. She informs the board that our number is 1.3 million dollars in assets, which is what is sitting in reserves. She goes over the statement of net assets and the statement of cash flows which indicates the ins and outs of the cash we are using. The next eight pages are footnotes to the financial statements, summaries of the basic financial statements. The last part of this is the subsequent events, actual facts of what can happen, and how it can impact our financials. The last twenty pages are supplementary information and it refers more to the campus setting. This information is specifically required by FABSY and is also available on the ASI website. She will bring the fraud policy at the next meeting and an auditor will talk to one of the board members about this fraud policy. All 23 campuses will make one financial statement together and that is what will be looked at by others. She then goes on to page fourteen and focuses on the net assets, capital assets for the Student Union. She explains the difference between restrictive and unrestrictive forms. Unrestrictive refers to that it’s not donor restrictive, salary increases cannot be given based on this money. She clarifies that the loan to Pizza 3.14 will be shown as an asset on page 14. Ms. Jarnagin then discusses the ASI Income Statement OPS for the month of September, the monthly financial statements. This shows where each organization is at and suggests that everyone should be looking at this regularly. Ms. Jarnagin and Ms. Trinidad meet quarterly with entities to go over these statements. Mr. Lebioda further indicates the importance of having a monthly budget in order to not go over in expenses. Dr. Evans Taylor informs the board that she and Ms. Porter are constantly looking over these statements for ASI and the SU. These statements can be pulled at any time and all questions are welcomed. She then shows the Balance Sheet ASI OPS: basically what the booklet is saying but in a monthly time span. The Balance Sheet SU OPS: is where most of our money is sitting and is pretty basic and self-explanatory. Lastly, she shows the ASI Club Report: in which each club and organization has its own basic account. The balances from last year did not roll over properly and some clubs are shown as a liability. The campus policies come into play when referencing how clubs spend their money.
